

Not all super heroes wear

Capes

The hero of my story is a wolf, not just any wolf- a kind and caring wolf who saved the day for grateful child. My story begins with a small family who were going camping in the deep, dark forest.

“James, don’t wander too far!” shouted Mum to her only child. James, who wasn’t listening to his mother, groaned and rolled his eyes.

“James, listen to your mother” his Dad called out

“Ugh, okay Dad” James replied.

James did not care about what his mother said and wandered off and got lost.

“Where am I? MOM DAD WHERE ARE YOU?”

James was highly frightened because it was very gloomy in the forest and was usually never lost in the park or at the beach; he turned around and kept on shouting nervously.

“MOM COME, DAD COME, I AM SO SCARED I WILL LISTEN NOW, COME PLEASE!

Eventually, he gave up screaming but then saw a huge adult wolf, which came from the creepy dark woods. Starting to shake all over, he timidly started to step back “Wolf please don’t eat me up” James pleaded while he was shivering in fear.

To his surprise, the wolf was caring towards James and gave him berries and nuts so he could eat.

The wolf then played with James by tickling him and chasing him.

“Oh thanks for playing and feeding me wolf. Wait, where am I going to sleep because my parents haven’t found me yet” James said a little upset.

Soon, it became night and it was much gloomier than morning time and obviously much creepier than before. However, he was not frightened because the wolf was protecting him and entertaining him, the wolf let James sleep on his soft comfortable fur. (It was absolutely kind of the wolf to let James sleep on his warm and fluffy fur) “Thanks so much for taking care of me I am so tired right now I could just sleep zzzzzzz” James said while sleeping.

Whilst James was having a great time dreaming, and his parents still had not even noticed that he was missing!

In the morning, his parents could not find their little James.

“JAMES DARLING WHERE ARE YOU SWEET BOY” bellowed frightened Mum.

“JAMES COME HOME” called out Dad who was as frightened as Mum

They called the police.

“Sorry we can’t find James who is 9 years old” answered the police who seemed to not care about missing James.

Everyone was about to give up hope, but suddenly, in the blink of an eye James appeared from the bushes riding on the wolf joyfully. His parents were ecstatic so they ran to their young boy and gave him a family hug.

Whilst James was spending time with his beloved family and was relieved to be back at the tent the wolf was about to leave but James did not want that to happen so he speedily ran and hugged the wolf so tight; his parents saw their child was happy with the wolf.

So they thought about keeping the wolf as a family pet, so they kept the wolf to guard them so the family would not be in trouble anymore because they have someone to take care of them. In addition, James had a new friend to play with.

See, the hero to my story was caring, brave, and special wolf AND HE DID NOT WEAR A CAPE!
